

ILLINOIS NATIONAL GUARD READY FOR STRIKE DUTY

DISTURBANCES OUTGROWTH OF RAIL WALKOUT

Tense Situation Prevails
In Chicago and Sections of the State

TROUBLE THREATENS

Most Serious Emergency
Develops at Decatur--
Outbreak Feared

Chicago, July 7.—A plot to burn hundreds of freight cars of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in the Chicago manufacturing district was charged today by J. C. Moter, chief special agent for the road, after flames had partly wrecked one of a string of cars standing on a siding. Prompt arrival of the firemen prevented a spread of the fire.

"It is the work of strikers or sympathizers," Moter said. "If the fire had not been promptly checked it would have spread to hundreds of cars and the loss would have been appalling."

Fire Captain Hubert Cassen told the police he found evidence of oil having been poured over rubbish in the car.

Chicago, July 7.—A tense situation exists in Chicago and several other sections of Illinois today as a result of disturbances growing out of the strike of railroad shopmen. Seven companies of the Illinois national guard are mobilized in down state armories, ready for strike duty.

The most serious situation, apparently, has developed at Decatur, where an outbreak is reported to be threatened. Two guards at Wabash railroad shops at Decatur were beaten yesterday and more trouble is feared as a result of the attempts of the Wabash shops to operate with strikebreakers.

The order for mobilization of state troops, according to General Carlos Black, the adjutant general was issued as a precautionary measure after reports of the Decatur situation had been received. The troops have been ordered to mobilize at their armories and be ready for instant service if needed.

Cavalry troops at Springfield and Urbana; and infantry companies at Decatur, Danville, Champaign and Delavan and the headquarters company at Decatur have been ordered mobilized.

The trouble at Decatur, according to reports here, arose when two shop guards attempted to prevent strikers from talking to strikebreakers whom they were attempting to dissuade from working. A. D. Wilson and H. L. Cook the guards were beaten but were not seriously hurt.

Extra police details were on guard in Chicago today as the result of attempts of a mob of 1,500 striking shopmen led by more than thirty women, to destroy the homes of two Illinois Central railway employees who had refused to join the strike.

At the home of Theodore Haas, an inspector in the safety appliances division, every window in the house was broken by missiles hurled by the mob and an attempt to set fire to the dwelling was made.

From the Haas home the strikers went to the residence of John Gabel. There Mrs. Gabel warned of their approach, met them with leveled revolver and promised to shoot the first person who threw a stone. She held the mob at bay for twenty minutes until the police arrived.

Cleveland, July 7.—Striking shops craftsmen employed in the Nickel Plate Shops here, and elsewhere are given until tomorrow morning to apply for reinstatement, or the company will take steps to employ men in their places, according to a statement, made by J. J. Bennett, president of the system made public today.

"We have been patient," said President Bennett. "Many of the men who went out Saturday have already returned and thus far we have taken no steps to replace the strikers but unless they return by tomorrow morning, we shall act immediately."

Receipts of coal for lake shipments and industries were reported this morning to be showing a decided falling off, as a result it was said, of the shops crafts strike.

Cincinnati, July 7.—J. F. Valentine, head of the international molders union said last night that a thousand molders employed in railroad repair shops throughout the country would go on strike immediately in sympathy with the strike shopmen and in protest to a cut of seven cents an hour made recently by the labor board in molders wages. Many of the men went out voluntarily when the shopmen struck, he said, and the others will follow. Mr. Valentine said that strike benefits of $9 a week had been authorized for the striking molders.

FORD'S PROJECT TO BE DELAYED FOR SOME TIME

Muscle Shoals Plan Will Not Be Realized at Present Session

CAPPER IS AUTHORITY

Senator Believes Matter
Will Run Over Until Next Congress

Washington, July 7.—The dream of Henry Ford for creation of a monster industrial community at Muscle Shoals, Ala., through control of the government's water power project, there will not materialize during the current session of congress, Senator Capper, Republican, of Kansas, chairman of the senate agricultural "bloc" predicted today.

Although both the senate and house agreed to delay resumption of government construction on the project until Oct. 1 in order to get an opportunity to vote on Ford's offer, Capper declared congress would not reach a decision on it this year.

"It is also doubtful whether a decision will be reached at the next session of congress which begins in December," Capper added.

The "bloc" chairman, who wields a powerful influence in the senate, warned that Ford's present offer must be amended to give the government absolute jurisdiction over operation of the project at all times. He declared he would only support Ford's offer under these conditions.

"Final action on Ford's offer will not be taken at the current session of congress," was Capper's outright prediction. "The delay in ordering resumption of government construction work on the project was intended to give congress an opportunity to act favorably on Ford's offer before October 1. I feel his supporters will be disappointed. I feel that Ford's offer not only will fail to be approved at this session but it is also doubtful whether it will be acted upon at the next session."

"Throughout the country there is a real demand for Ford to get the project. The people feel he has proven his industrial worth by his industrial achievements in Michigan. Personally I want to see the government's interests safeguarded and I want the public to be protected whether under Ford's offer or any other offer."

EXPECT TREATIES RATIFIED SOON

London, July 7.—Lieut. Colonel L. S. Amery, parliamentary secretary to the British admiralty announced in the house of commons today that Britain intends to seek another international conference at a suitable time to extend the results of the Washington conference and to take up the question of abolishing the submarine in warfare.

London, July 7.—The bill ratifying Washington conference treaties was passed on second reading by the house of commons this afternoon. Its final passage is expected soon.

A new Washington conference to consider aerial disarmament was proposed in the house of commons this afternoon by Colonel J. C. Wedgwood, a liberal, representing Newcastle-Under-Lyme. Colonel expressed fear however that France would not be willing to participate in such a conference.

PRESIDENT WILL TURN ATTENTION TO COAL STRIKE

Harding Leaves Columbus for Washington Early
On Friday.

HOPE FOR AGREEMENT

Chief Executive Appeals for United Republican Party
In Ohio.

Columbus, July 7.—His vacation ended President Harding left Columbus this morning by motor for Washington to resume his official duties and to try again to get the coal miners and operators, now deadlocked, to start producing coal in the face of an almost certain famine.

President Harding, so far as can be learned, has no hard-and-fast program to suggest to the warring factions in the coal industry next Monday. He is determined, however, that the production of coal shall be resumed as soon as possible and in time to stave off public suffering and the administration's every effort will be devoted to that end next week.

The president would rather the miners and operators start producing coal peaceably under a mutual agreement, but if they persist in their deadlocking over terms, those with whom the president has discussed the problem this week declared today the chief executive will not hesitate to make good his implied threat of government seizure and operation. He has already been assured of congressional support in such a move it was said.

That a sterner attitude on the part of the administration will be apparent next week is regarded as virtually certain. From a stage of being merely "serious" the coal strike has now assumed proportions that are better described as "menacing" and the president is convinced that the time of temporizing has passed. Attorney General Daugherty, who discussed the coal strike with the chief executive yesterday and today, is of the same opinion.

The presidential party left Columbus early this morning. The first stop will be made at New Concord, O., the seat of Muskingum College, where the president will remain just long enough to receive a degree from the institution. Then the party will resume the eastward journey in hopes of making Uniontown, Pa., for the night.

The size of the White House party was reduced here. General John J. Pershing left by motor for Washington ahead of the president and Brig. General and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, left for Chicago by train today.

Attorney General Daugherty will not return to Washington with the Hardings. He said he would return by train either today or tomorrow. He will be in Washington by the time the president arrives.

President Harding's only public reference to politics in his home state which is boiling just now with the Ohio primaries only four weeks away was an appeal for a United Republican party in Ohio.

He spoke briefly near midnight last night at an anniversary celebration of the Columbus glee club, a Republican organization, which has been identified with campaigns for the last half century.

"This club" said the president pointedly, "is devoted to music and harmony to the party and its candidates. There is an object lesson in that. The trouble in public life and in our party today is that too many men are trying to be soloists and care too little about the ensemble."

"I don't want to be a soloist. However, some one has to do the directing or there won't be much singing."

"We would all be better off if all who wore the badge of Republicanism were really Republicans at heart."

COX IN PARIS SAYS THOUGHT EXPANDING

Paris, July 7.—"People are beginning to think internationally," declared James M. Cox, Democratic candidate for president of the United States in the last campaign, upon his arrival here today from Havre. He continued:

"One effect of the war has been to increase vision and clear away the frontiers which formerly obstructed thought."

Mr. Cox said he was studying economic and political conditions in Europe, especially the practical working of European administrations.

On his motor trip from the coast, Mr. Cox delayed at Havre, Rouen and other points for the purpose of talking to the people and getting his information at first hand. He intends to continue this practice while motoring across France, Italy and Germany. He has timed his journey to arrive at Geneva, Switzerland, on Sept. 4 when the league of nations meeting will open. This will give the American statesman an opportunity to meet many of the leading statesmen of Europe.

ARRESTED IN $2,000,000 MAIL ROBBERY

According to Federal authorities, these are two of the most remarkable criminals ever captured. In the luxurious apartment of Edward Bryce, in exclusive Gramercy Park, New York City, the police found $100,000 worth of securities. With Heins, also known as "Dutch" Anderson, Bryce engineered the hold-up and theft of $2,000,000 worth of negotiable securities from a mail truck in New York City. Both men are highly educated and have international criminal records. A detective won their confidence and learned the whereabouts of $400,000 worth of additional securities, which had been buried under a tree near Silver Lake, Long Island.

OBSTACLE TO RECOGNITION OF MEXICO IS BELIEVED REMOVED

Recent Decision of Supreme Court of That Country
Taken as Guarantee That American Rights
Will Be Respected.

Washington, July 7.—The recent decision of the Mexican supreme court definitely and completely establishes the fact that article 27 of the Mexican constitution cannot be given a retroactive or confiscatory effect, according to an official announcement from the Mexican foreign office, made public at the Mexican embassy here today.

The opinion rendered on May 12 being the fifth of this nature, the statement concludes:

Juridic basis has been established, which shall serve in the future as a basis for interpretation of the law."

For nearly two months the state department has awaited the text of this supreme court decision. Officials freely admit it may have an important effect upon future relations between Mexico and U. S. and particularly on the question of recognition of the Oregan government, pending an opportunity to study carefully the exact nature and scope of the decision, however, they decline to predict it will be the means of bringing about a resumption of diplomatic relations.

Should the decision prove as comprehensive and as definite as the Mexican foreign office statement would indicate, there is little doubt that the greatest obstacle to recognition will have been removed.

In various communications exchanged with the Oregan government, Secretary Hughes had made it plain there can be no recognition of the Mexican government until adequate guarantees are given that American rights legitimately acquired will be respected and has indicated that until competent authority has spoken to the contrary, article 27 of the constitution of 1917 must be regarded as menacing such interests. The Mexican supreme court is admittedly such a competent authority.

ATTEMPT TO LIMIT DEBATE ON TARIFF BILL IS DEFEATED

Motion to Adopt Cloture
Rule Loses in the Senate

Washington, July 7.—The demand of the administration leaders that the McCumber tariff bill be speeded up by limiting debate on the measure was turned down by the senate this afternoon. A motion by Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, chairman of the senate finance committee and Senator Curtis, of Kansas, Republican, whip, to adopt a cloture rule, was defeated. The vote was 45 to 35.

The vote rejected the motion as a two-thirds majority is required to pass cloture.

IS FOUND DEAD ALONG RAILROAD

Dayton, June 7.—Mrs. Grace Hart, 39, of 1101 Wisconsin Boulevard, was found dead along the B. and O. railroad tracks at the Bolander St. crossing by William Brown, Edgemont Hotel, at nine o'clock last night.

She is thought to have been struck by a northbound freight which passed the crossing about 15 minutes before the body was discovered. When found she was lying parallel with the tracks and one shoe had the corner cut off and was ground into the rail. The woman was still breathing when found, but died soon after. She is survived by her husband, one son, her parents and several brothers and sisters.

ANNOUNCE RECEIPTS OF RECEIVERSHIP'S SALE

Columbus, July 7.—Receipts from the receivership sale of property of the erstwhile Allen motor car company, which operated plants here and in Bucyrus total $313,073.96, according to a report made by the receivers to Federal Judge Sater. Bids in company's Columbus real estate were declared unsatisfactory by the receivers. New bids will be received July 10.

Real estate of the Bucyrus branch was purchased by the Shunk Manufacturing Company for $35,000. Company service rights were sold for $66,000 to A. O. Dunk, of the Puritan Machine Company, Detroit.

Materials and supplies sold at the Columbus plant brought $101,497.68 and the machinery, equipment and supplies at Bucyrus were sold for $110,576.23.

GOVERNMENT MAY TAKE DRASTIC STEPS TO END COAL STRIKE SOON

Reports of Fuel Shortage in Various Parts of Country
Lead to Belief That President Will Take Immediate Action On Return

Washington, July 7.—With big industries in many parts of the country running headlong into a coal shortage resulting from the mine strike, cabinet officials predicted today that President Harding would lose no time upon his return to Washington to take drastic steps leading to an immediate resumption of mining operations.

JEWELL PLACES RESPONSIBILITY FOR HIS STRIKE

Shopmen's Leader Declares
It is Now Up to Labor
Board

Chicago, July 7.—Responsibility for the further continuation of the strike of the 400,000 railroad shopmen and the resultant consequences, was placed directly up to the U. S. Railroad labor board and railway executives today by R. M. Jewell, head of the strikers, in a statement.

The strikers, through their leader Jewell pointed out, have signified their willingness to meet in conference with authorized representatives with a view of settling the strike. These peace overtures, the strike leader said have been ignored both by the railway executives and the labor board.

"Much has been and can be said," declared Jewell, "regarding the necessity for a speedy settlement of the shopmen's controversy and their return to work."

"Let it be remembered now and for all time that notwithstanding the fact that we have been and are now willing to meet any one authorized to advance a proposal or settlement, that no such proposal has been forthcoming."

"The shopcrafts have for more than two years done everything that honorable men with reasonable human intelligence could think of, to avoid the situation with which they are now confronted and into which they were forced as a last resource. We have evidenced a consistent desire and willingness to meet with responsible authorities and our expressed desires have met with no response."

Hence, the responsibility that the further continuance of this strike shall continue to a successful conclusion is theirs, and not ours."

INVESTIGATION OF SUBWAY ACCIDENT IS BEGUN FRIDAY

New York, July 7.—With three investigations under way today into the Lexington Avenue subway accident of yesterday when scores were "gassed" by fumes and the lives of hundreds were imperiled, it was indicated that further safeguards in the way of emergency exits would be ordered. Less than 15 persons were still under treatment in hospitals and it was said that all would recover. Despite the huge proportions of panic that accompanied the accident the damage amounted to only $100.

Among the suggestions that have been made to prevent such mishaps in the future was one that the materials in the fire fighting apparatus on the trains be changed.

Officials declared that the chemicals used in the hand extinguishers on the subway throw off a deadly phosgene gas when they come into contact with flames. President Hedley of the Interborough rapid transit company denies this however.

ARMY FLIER IS KILLED WHEN HIS PLANE CRASHES

Detroit, July 7.—Captain George C. Tinsley, of the Army Aviation Corps and World War Veterans was killed at Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, near here late yesterday when his plane crashed to the ground from a height of 150 feet and burned.

Witnesses said Captain Tinsley turned sharply when the motor went dead and the plane fell.

As the craft hit the ground it burst into flames, the heat forestalling attempts of spectators to reach the flier's side. The body was still in the seat of the plane when recovered.

DARING HOLD UP IS STAGED IN MONTREAL

Montreal, July 7.—The most daring daylight hold up in years was staged in St. James street in the heart of Montreal's financial section at 11 o'clock today when two armed men backed the messenger of the Dominion Textile company into a little desecrated and took from him the company payroll of $29,000 at the point of guns.

The messenger had just come from the bank and was on his way back to the office when two unmasked men snuck their guns into his ribs and ordered him into the lane. Thousands of people were passing at the time. The whole thing only took a few seconds and the thugs made off and disappeared into the labyrinth of little streets honeycombing the real Wall street district.

HUNDREDS ANSWER COLLINS' CALL TO ARMS IN IRELAND

Dublin Quickly Resumes
Normal Life Following
Disorders

Dublin, July 7.—Although there was desultory sniping throughout Dublin today the city is quickly resuming normal life. Hundreds of youths are responding to Michael Collins call for volunteers and are enlisting in the regular army for six months active service against the rebels in the provinces.

An unconfirmed report is in circulation that Eamonn DeValera, commander in chief of the Republican irregulars, has been wounded. DeValera is understood to be near Blessington, in the northern part of County Wicklow, at the head of a band of rebels.

More than 700 regulars are held prisoner by the free states.

The campaign against the irregulars outside of Dublin is now in full swing. Regulars are rounding up guerrilla bands in the hills of Dublin county.

The free states now claim control of county Roscommon, county Longford, East Mayo, county Westmeath and county Sligo.

Irregulars who were defeated in a sharp engagement at Delvin, fled to Boyle in county Roscommon, where they made a stubborn stand, but were dispersed.

Officers of the Irish provisional government are well satisfied with the situation but admit that it may take some time to restore national tranquility through the suppression of guerrilla bands in all parts of the country.

As the volunteers enlist they are being sent to training camps for a period of intensive preparation for field duty.

LOCAL STARTER MEANS BUSINESS DRIVER DISCOVERS

Starter Steve Phillips, of this city, who is getting the speedster away at North Randall track, Cleveland, this week, is the object of a newspaper compliment paid by Tuesday's Cleveland Press. The article follows: "Don't monkey with the new starter at North Randall—he means business. That's the word going the rounds among the drivers who will start this week in the Grand Circuit's opening meet at that track.

"For Starter Steve Phillips, who hails from Xenia, O., showed plainly he'll stand for no monkey business when he soaked $250 fines on Driver Sep Palin, over at Cranwood last week for repeatedly spilling the starts in one single heat.

"Phillips started by assessing Palin $50 but Palin came right back on the next scoring and was a half dozen lengths in front of everybody as they passed the judge's stand. Then Phillips promptly plastered on $100 more.

"Dr. H. S. Myers of Springfield, who had also gotten a $50 dose from Phillips at the same time with Palin for trying to beat the bunch with Myron Cochato, took the lesson to heart.

"But even the second dose wasn't enough to calm Palin, he proved a glutton for punishment and came back for more. This time Hoe McGraw the presiding judge, stepped forward and made it emphatic by adding on the next $100. Palin then decided he had enough and the horses finally got away without his entry, Robert W., spilling many more starts. That's the record fine herabouts for a driver in any one heat in many years."

and as Phillips will be starter and McGraw presiding judge at Randall's Grand Circuit meet this week, it's a real object lesson for the men in the sulks.

"The starter has more power this year than ever before for the Grand Circuit meets are being held under the rules of the new trotting union. "This gives starters not only power to fine, but to substitute new drivers or send drivers and horse to the barn and disqualify them from races if they offend. This power hitherto was vested only in finish judges."

INSURANCE COMPANIES PAY OUT MORE THAN HALF MILLION DOLLARS ON ACCOUNT OF RAIN

New York, July 7.—Rain insurance companies that guarantee fair weather for baseball clubs, resort hotels, "hot dog" vendors, golf players and vacationists, got an awful wallop throughout the month of June and an even worse blow during the prolonged week-end, which many stretched over four days to properly celebrate the Fourth of July.

The four big companies engaged in this business, which has been growing rapidly in the United States for the last 18 months, paid out more than $500,000 to policy holders protected against bad weather over the Independence day period, brokers estimated today. Yet, they all feel that the June rains were good advertising, stimulating interest in their field.

On Sunday, July 2, the government charts revealed, almost every square mile of land within 200 miles of the Atlantic coast, from Florida to Maine was rained upon. The entire gulf coast country was sprinkled and considerable parts of east Texas, Arkansas, Kentucky, southern Indiana, Ohio and middle Pennsylvania received a wetting.

July 4 was almost as bad. The big hotels on the board walk at Atlantic City had nearly all taken out rain insurance for the holiday period. Concessions along the beach were similarly protected. The hotels, as a rule, insured themselves of receiving gross receipts of a certain amount and where these fell below the estimates the insurance policy covered the distance. The Giants at the Polo Grounds had a $30,000 policy last Tuesday.

There were only three days of June in New York when the weather was fair. The rest of the month it was either raining or threatening. The precipitation, amounting to 7.86 inches, was the heaviest that has fallen in June since the weather bureau got in the habit of keeping records here 51 years ago.

GUARANTEE FIRST OF BAND CONCERTS

LOCAL STARTER MEANS BUSINESS DRIVER DISCOVERS

Starter Steve Phillips, of this city, who is getting the speedster away at North Randall track, Cleveland, this week, is the object of a newspaper compliment paid by Tuesday's Cleveland Press. The article follows: "Don't monkey with the new starter at North Randall—he means business. That's the word going the rounds among the drivers who will start this week in the Grand Circuit's opening meet at that track."

"For Starter Steve Phillips, who hails from Xenia, O., showed plainly he'll stand for no monkey business when he soaked $250 fines on Driver Sep Palin, over at Cranwood last week for repeatedly spoiling the starts in one single heat."

"Phillips started by assessing Palin $30 but Palin came right back on the next scoring and was a half dozen lengths in front of everybody as they passed the judge's stand. Then Phillips promptly plastered on $100 more."

"Dr. H. S. Myers of Springfield, who had also gotten a $50 dose from Phillips at the same time with Palin for trying to beat the bunch with Myron Cochato, took the lesson to heart."

"But even the second dose wasn't enough to calm Palin, he proved a glutton for punishment and came back for more. This time Hoe McGraw the presiding judge, stepped forward and made it emphatic by adding on the next $100. Palin then decided he had enough and the horses finally got away without his entry. Robert W., spilling many more starts. That's the record fine herabouts for a driver in any one heat in many years and as Phillips will be starter and McGraw presiding judge at Randall's Grand Circuit meet this week, it's a real object lesson for the men in sulks."

"The starter has more power this year than ever before for the Grand Circuit meets are being held under the rules of the new trotting union. "This gives starters not only power to fine, but to substitute new drivers or send drivers and horse to the barn and disqualify them from races if they offend. This power hitherto was vested only in finish judges."

INSURANCE COMPANIES PAY OUT MORE THAN HALF MILLION DOLLARS ON ACCOUNT OF RAIN

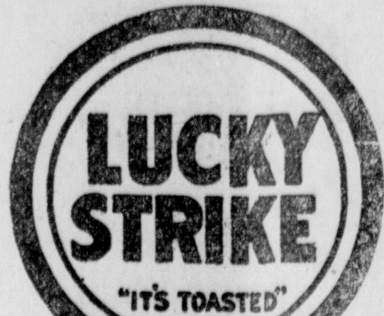

New York, July 7.—Rain insurance companies that guarantee fair weather for baseball clubs, resort hotels, "hot dog" vendors, golf players and vacationists, got an awful wallop throughout the month of June and an even worse blow during the prolonged week-end, which many stretched over four days to properly celebrate the Fourth of July.

The four big companies engaged in this business, which has been growing rapidly in the United States for the last 18 months, paid out more than $500,000 to policy holders protected against bad weather over the Independence day period, brokers estimated today. Yet, they all feel that the June rains were good advertising, stimulating interest in their field.

On Sunday, July 2, the government charts revealed, almost every square mile of land within 200 miles of the Atlantic coast, from Florida to Maine was rained upon. The entire gulf coast country was sprinkled and considerable parts of east Texas, Arkansas, Kentucky, southern Indiana, Ohio and middle Pennsylvania received a wetting.

July 4 was almost as bad. The big hotels on the board walk at Atlantic City had nearly all taken out rain insurance for the holiday period. Concessions along the beach were similarly protected. The hotels, as a rule, insured themselves of receiving gross receipts of a certain amount and where these fell below the estimates the insurance policy covered the distance. The Giants at the Polo Grounds had a $30,000 policy last Tuesday.

There were only three days of June in New York when the weather was fair. The rest of the month it was either raining or threatening. The precipitation, amounting to 7.86 inches, was the heaviest that has fallen in June since the weather bureau got in the habit of keeping records here 51 years ago.

LOCAL PHYSICIANS REPORT 24 CASES OF TYPHOID FEVER

Doctors Say Water Should Be Boiled As a Safeguard.

With twenty-four cases of typhoid fever reported by local physicians Friday afternoon, doctors broadcasted a warning to citizens urging that all water be boiled and milk be sterilized until the epidemic has been traced to its source.

Although reports received by Dr. R. H. Grube, city health commissioner during the recent epidemic of the disease shows the city water supply to be pure, physicians urged the boiling process as a precautionary measure.

Water and milk are the most likely agencies for carrying destructive typhoid germs the physicians point out, as the germ thrives in water and multiplies in milk. All dairy products including milk, butter and ice cream, besides water and ice, and fruits and vegetables that have had an opportunity for being infected with the typhoid germ may be carriers of the disease, physicians say.

The cases reported by physicians Friday have been in evidence for several days, doctors say. Dr. Grube stated Thursday that only four actual cases of typhoid had come to his attention. The cases are scattered over the city and the public health nurses of both the Red Cross and Social Service League have come in connection with numerous evidences of the disease.

The city water supply was given a clean bill of health by state department of health officials who visited this city during the epidemic several weeks ago and who analyzed samples of the city water sent to them by Dr. Grube. Following an investigation the disease seemed to be thwarted and it was believed that the disease had been eliminated until it broke out again.

Local physicians say that the spread of the disease would be prevented and the life of many citizens safeguarded if all were required to be immunized. They point out that during the Civil War as many soldiers died from typhus as from bullet wounds, but that during the last war, soldiers were rendered immune, and although they were often required to drink water that appeared to be infected, that typhoid fever in epidemic form was unknown.

One physician Friday urged as a safeguard that all water and milk be boiled during the epidemic period, explaining that distilled water or milk is not harmful for an adult, although infants should not be placed on a boiled milk diet too long. The physician urged further that food and drink supplies be kept away from flies as infection can be carried by these insects, and that it should be kept in a clean cool place. He warned against using ice in water or beverages during the epidemic scare also. Dr. Grube could not be reached Friday afternoon.

MRS. KISSELL GAINS 17 POUNDS TAKING TANLAC

Ohio Woman Had Almost Lost Hope of Ever Being Well of Stomach Troubles --Eats Anything and Feels Fine Now.

"I have gained seventeen pounds by taking Tanlac and am now a well and happy woman," said Mrs. Charles Kissell, 1059 Big Falls Ave., North Hill, Ohio.

"For over a year before I got Tanlac I had about as bad a case of indigestion as anyone could have. I never enjoyed a meal and at times my stomach was so bad that even water hurt it. I was very nervous, didn't even have strength enough to make up a bed or sweep the floor without stopping to rest, and was almost helpless.

"I had about given up hope when friends advised me to take Tanlac. I did, and in a short while my indigestion left me completely and my appetite returned in full force. I can now do all my housework easily and just feel fine. I can soon convince anyone what Tanlac has done in my case."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

The American party and Japanese officials decorated the Perry monument today and a grove of American oaks was planted around the monument.

A dinner given by Baron Shibusawa ended the program of entertainment this evening. Secretary will spend the week end at Nikko.

STATE RIGHTS AGAIN.

So long as the people of the United States are governed under the Constitution of 1789 there is bound to be a state rights question. The federal system necessarily divides the powers of the nation between the central and the state government. It does so specifically and by intention. Some things are definitely assigned to the central authority, others are clearly left to the states. Between the two legal spheres there is a twilight zone where legislative encroachments and judicial decisions are continually pushing forward or back the line that separates the domain subject to Congress from the domain subject to the local legislatures.

The prevailing tendency has been for the central power to extend itself at the expense of the states. Regions or interests that have suffered thereby have often raised the issue of state rights, but it is interesting to observe that, although they have sometimes been able to summon the decisions of the Supreme Court to their aid, the national power has in the end prevailed, either by force of arms or by force of ballots.

Some New Englanders wanted secession in 1814, and the Southern States tried it half a century later, but in neither case did the friends of state rights win their cause. The income tax was originally held to be a clear infringement of the taxing power of the states and an infraction of the Constitution, but we are paying the income tax today—and it is a tax of generous proportions.

Of late years we have heard little of state rights. Congress has legislated on matters that would in the last century have been regarded as purely state concerns; and the Democratic party, once the special guardian of the reserved rights of the states, has had its fair share in passing such legislation.

The recent decisions by the Supreme Court declaring that Congress must not use its taxing power to reach conditions of child labor in certain states, or to oblige trading associations like stock and produce exchanges to admit all traders, whether individuals or associations, to their privileges, come rather as a surprise. We were astonished to learn that the doctrine of the reserved rights of the states had sufficient vitality to resist the imposition of general legislation, however desirable in itself, on states that would not themselves enact it. The decisions, however, were almost unanimous. Only one justice dissented from either. Apparently our Supreme Court thinks centralization is going forward rather too rapidly. In that opinion it will not be without sympathizers, though most persons will regret that the occasion for so important a restatement of constitutional prerogative was a law intended to reach the abuse of child labor in states that have not yet put an end to the abuse.

Whether these decisions will have any political effect, as controverted decisions have often had in the past, remains to be seen.

A HEALTHFUL PEOPLE.

Improvements in the prevention of disease have reduced the cases of illness in many rural communities to a point which makes it almost impossible for a doctor to make a living there. This is one of the explanations, given on good authority, for the shortage of rural physicians. It is a flattering comment on the advance of health education in this country.

Uncontaminated water supply, the proper disposal of sewerage and the relation of these matters to health are better understood through the country today than they were even a few short years ago. Proper combination and preparation of foods, intelligent care of the body, isolation for contagious cases and a thousand other points of health are practiced almost as regularly today in the small town and on the farm as in the city.

This does not mean that country doctors are needed no longer. They are needed acutely for maternity cases, accidents and illnesses where preventive measures have failed. Some way must be worked out to supply this medical care wherever it is needed. But for all that the merited compliment to a healthier people should not be overlooked.

RADIO BEACONS.

The installation of radio beacons to guide ships in fogs or heavy weather is proceeding apace. There are such radio stations near New York harbor at Ambrose, Fire Island and Sea Girt. San Francisco harbor has two. Others are now being installed at Boston, Nantucket, Cape Charles, Columbia River and Puget Sound. Two or three have already been installed near Whitefish Bay in Lake Superior.

In order to have full protection from these radio beacons, ships must be equipped with radio direction finders. American and foreign vessels, both are rapidly being so equipped and will hereafter be able to learn their exact location and direction by radio and be guided by the radio beacons with much more exactness than the old methods of beacon lights and fog bells afforded.

There is perhaps no other use of radio more thrilling or more intensely interesting than this one of helping unseen ships at sea to keep to paths of safety.

PEACE
On awaking this morning, I glanced out of my window. The winding road, just beyond, flanked with trees and shrubbery, presented a lovely picture. There was no sun around. The air was gray with a shadowy mist. I was fascinated by the picture and watched it for half an hour or so. Then as the mist deepened the overcast sky grew heavy until its cloud pans had to spill their fill.

The rain came in torrents. It looked like an all day affair. But it wasn't. Soon after noon the skies cleared and the sun smiled again, and I walked into the woods and sat underneath a rugged tree to watch the play of the shadows, to catch the soft ruffle of the winds that so gently bathed my face, and to enjoy the company of the birds.

Thrushes ran here and there. Little wrens darted through the woodpiles spring. There was a new family in that house and I could hear the chirp of the newcomers as the mother bird darted so gracefully in with worm food and then out again to search for more.

And clear at top of the mighty tree under which I sat was a gray squirrel's nest. Earlier in the Spring I had watched this house being built of bitten-off oak sprigs and leaves.

Everything is so peaceful in the woods. The dense trees, the running

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

HOW TO DRY PEAS AND CORN
The ideal plan for the home—whether it be in the city or the country—is to have an ample supply of canned foods on hand for instant use in emergency; and also to have a good quantity of dried foods for meals which can be planned in advance, when there is time enough for soaking the dried products.

Peas and Corn are especially satisfactory dried. Any woman can dry them in her own oven. A wire rack resembling a fine-meshed window screen may be used for this purpose—or simply a rick made of cheesecloth tacked onto a wood frame. The drying rack should be set on the oven shelf rather than on the floor of the oven, so as to permit a free circulation of air beneath the drying food. The oven door should be left ajar to prevent the temperature's becoming too intense.

Although many housewives dry their fruits and vegetables each year without the help of an oven thermometer, this scientific little device is nevertheless a great help. If you would like to buy one and do not know of a store that sells oven thermometers, write to me, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and I will gladly tell you of a firm that sells them by mail. With an oven thermometer, begin drying at 110 degrees Fahrenheit and let rise to 130 degrees—never higher than 150 degrees.

Vegetables should be blanched in steam before drying. Blanching is very important for many reasons. It removes the sticky coating on the surface of vegetables, relaxes the tissues, drives out the air and improves the capillary attraction—as a result of which the drying is done in a much shorter period than if blanching were omitted—and, furthermore, blanching prevents change after drying and makes the product sanitary.

To Dry Peas: Shell full-sized green peas and put them in a cheesecloth bag; hold this bag in stream from rapidly-boiling water for five minutes. Then plunge the bagful of blanched peas in and out of cold water rapidly this is called cold-dipping; let drain a moment, pat between towels, then spread them in a single layer on the drying trays in the oven. Let them remain in the oven about three and one-half hours, when they should be thoroughly dried. Stir the peas often to insure uniform drying. Store in air-tight containers.

To Dry Corn: Select young and tender ears, remove the silk and steam the corn on the cob for 15 minutes; this steam-blanching sets the milk in the corn. After steaming, "cold-dip" as described above, and then cut the kernels from the cob using a sharp and flexible knife. Cut the grains only half-way down to the cob and scrape out the remainder of the kernels, being careful not to scrape off any of the chaff next to the cob. Drain well and pat between two towels to remove surface moisture, then spread in a single layer on wire tray in the oven. It will require three to four hours to complete the drying process.

Firestone GUM-DIPPED CORDS -and Their High Mileage Records

The high mileage records of Firestone Cords continue to emphasize the fact that Firestone methods are different and better. These records, steadily increasing in number and in mileage totals, justify the Firestone contention that there is one best way to build tires.

Among the primary sources of Firestone extra mileage is double gum-dipping—the saturation of the cord plies in a vat of liquid gum—thus coating each cord and virtually eliminating internal heat and friction.

Another is Firestone air bag curing, with its 200 pound pressure, which places every cord accurately and equalizes the tension.

By blending the rubbers of different plantations and types, and by tempering it before mixing, Firestone men add still more mileage.

Many cord tires are good—a few are better—Firestone users say one is best.

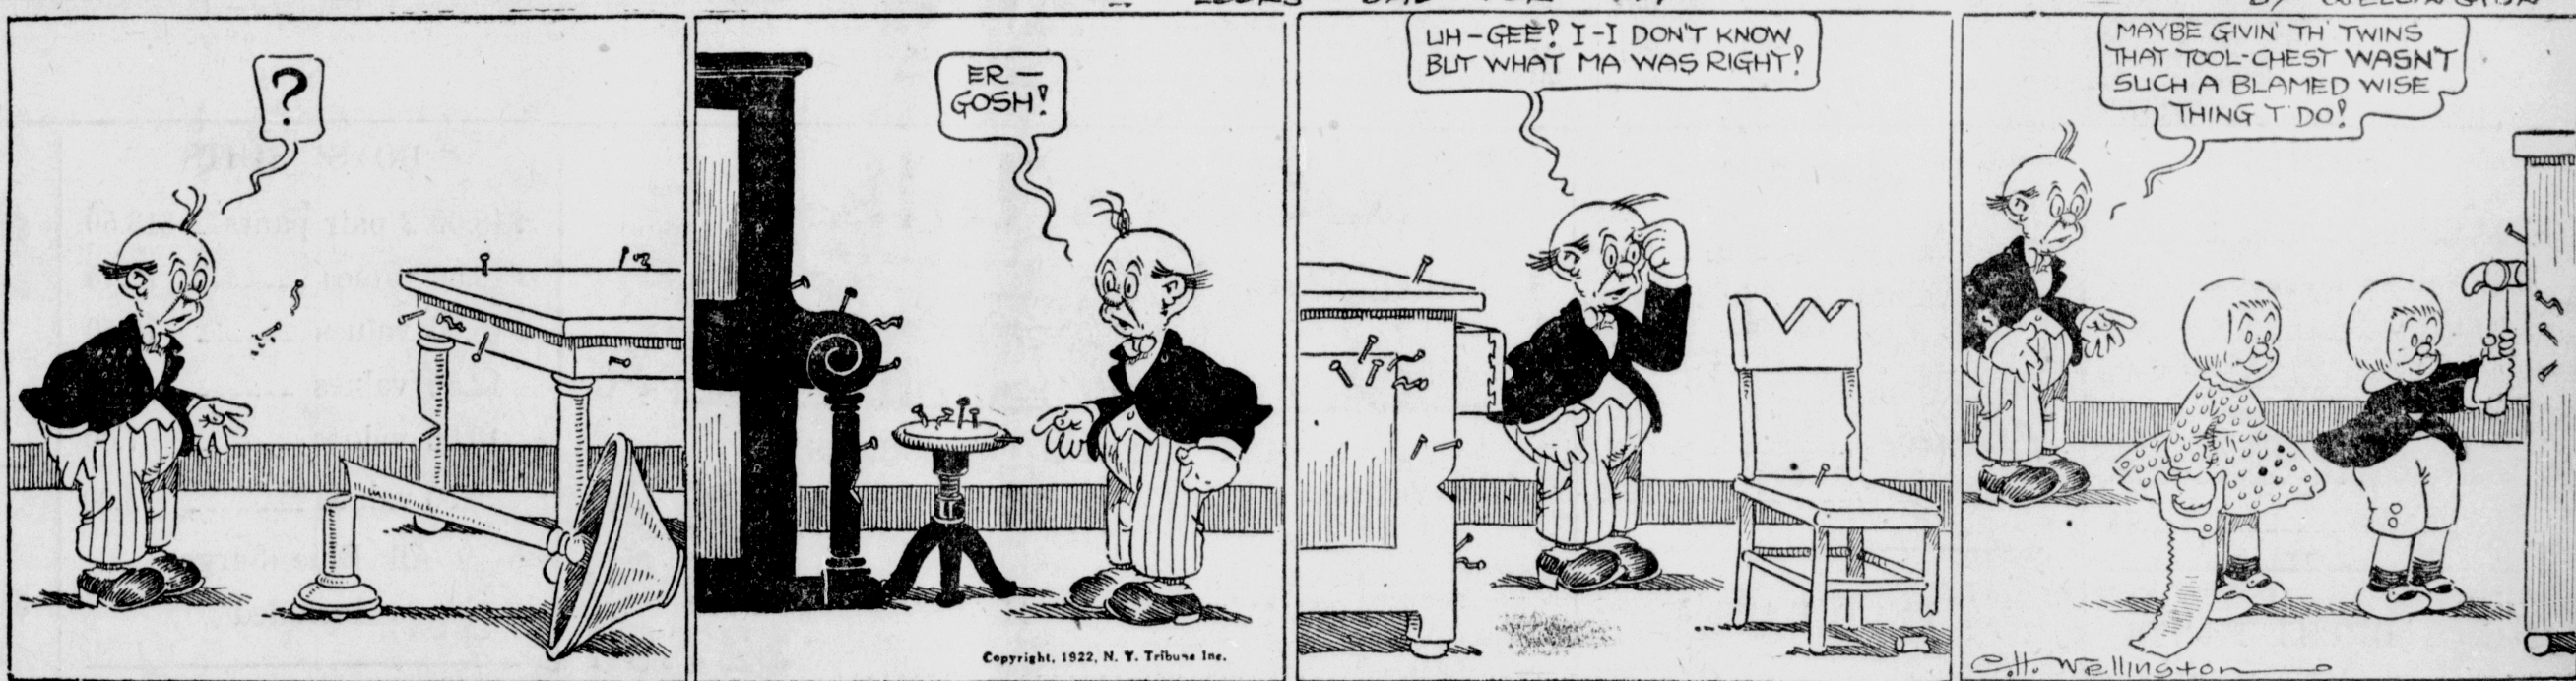

Those who have already experienced Firestone mileage, have stopped shopping and experimenting—they have made these cords standard equipment. Investigate your friends' success with Firestone Cords—and buy your next tire accordingly. Come in and get your share of extra mileage.

SELECT CAMP SITE FOR OUTING WHICH WILL OPEN JULY 11

Twenty boys are already enrolled for the boys camp to be held under the auspices of the Kiwanis club and which will open Tuesday at the camp site selected, on the Corry farm, opposite the Grinnell picnic grounds.

The camp is located on the Grinnell Road off the Clifton pike, and is seven and one half miles from Xenia and two and one half miles from Yellow Springs. Saturday night is the last opportunity for registering for the first camp.

According to A. J. Black, who will be in charge of the camp, the boy campers must come provided with two pairs of blankets, two sheets, two pairs of long stockings, two suits of underwear, 1 swimming suit, a heavy sweater, handkerchiefs, shirts and knickerbockers, several towels, two or three dark shirts, one light shirt, sleeping garments, rubber soled shoes, heavy shoes for hiking, toilet articles, knapsack, messkit and canteen.

SAYS MEN DENY POWER OF GOD

"We are living in the last days when men are lovers of pleasures more than God, a day when men are ever learning and never able to come to the knowledge of the Truth," said Miss Edna M. Banning, evangelist in charge of the revival at the Nazarene Church, Thursday night.

"This is a day when men have a form of Godliness," but deny the real power and manifestations of the power of God," said Miss Banning. "It is just as logical to talk about an honest liar as it is to talk about a sinning Christian."

"Christ did not come to save us in our sins, but from them, and a man that claims to be a child of God and yet says he sins every day in thought, word, and deed is a hypocrite. People might deceive their friends but not God. God knows and sees just what we are in His sight. The blood is still efficacious to save from all sin."

Department of Commerce In Industrial Survey Declares
Fundamental Operations for Most Part
Are Good.

Washington, July 7.—Despite the nation-wide coal strike and accompanying labor difficulties on the railroads, fundamental economic conditions in the United States "are for the most part favorable," and business again "presents the picture of prosperity," the department of commerce declared in a comprehensive industrial and commercial survey.

While pointing out that prices showed the greatest increase during May than in any month for more than two years, the department warned against disregarding caution because it "has been the excesses of the prosperity period that have been responsible for the depth of the depression that followed."

"Prices on the average have not fallen below about forty per cent over the pre-war level," the department said. "They are now nearly 50 per cent above that level. No one knows at what level prices will finally become stabilized but it is believed that care should be used in placing large forward orders for raw materials at prices much above the present level."

Practically every industry for which figures have been received by the commerce department showed greater activity in May than in April. The virtual cessation of coal production as a result of the strike of 500,000 bituminous miners has so far caused "little inconvenience" the report stated. It was admitted, however, that huge industrial stocks are dwindling rapidly.

SPOTLIGHT TO BE TURNED ON CASE

Washington, July 7.—A federal court spotlight will be relied upon by the administration to reveal the government's record in disposing of alien property seized during the war, officials declared today.

According to the department of justice, the record discloses an amazing disregard of the right of aliens and of the government itself. Abuse of authority given by congress under the alien property act also will be shown officials said.

Exposure in the courts of official acts which have led to misuse of funds and property, held in trust by the government, will come through a legal battle, to secure the return of property, including valuable German patents, now held by the Chemical Foundation.

The department of justice today was ready to force the return of the patents by a suit in equity.

would result from widespread labor difficulties on the railroads through the present strike of 400,000 railroad shopmen has not lasted long enough to cause any apprehension on the general industrial situation.

"On the other hand the official statement said, "fundamental conditions in this country are for the most part favorable. The agricultural situation is good. The construction industry is having the biggest boom ever known and this carries with it a large number of contributory industries.

Employment has reached a point where a scarcity of men is reported at some points.

"The financial situation is favorable with an abundance of money available at low rates of interest. So far there is no evidence that this is being used for inflation purposes.

"With due care in the exercise of business judgment the period of prosperity can be extended without the corresponding excesses so evident in 1919 and the early part of 1920."

SAYS GERMANY MUST INCREASE TAXATION

Washington, July 7.—Germany will fail to meet allied reparations payments, unless taxation in that country is increased, and German authorities stop tax dodgers who escape liability. This view of Germany's chaotic financial situation was given today in a report made by American commercial attaché Herring at Berlin, to Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

A start in liquidating Germany's enormous debt, and the redemption of tremendous currency issues must begin with imposition of adequate levies upon German tax payers, Herring declared.

Out of Germany's economic turmoil there soon will come higher production costs on practically all German goods, produced he predicted.

Herring did not attempt to say when Germany would be able to balance her budget, but from a survey of internal conditions in the country he has reached the conclusion that the period of deflation will not be long delayed.

DESTROYED BY FIRE

Johnstown, Pa., July 7.—An entire block in the center of Nanty-Glo, a mining town near here, was destroyed by fire, causing damage amounting to $125,000. Several stores, an ice cream factory and a hotel were among the buildings laid in ruins.

The camp is located on the Grinnell Road off the Clifton pike, and is seven and one half miles from Xenia and two and one half miles from Yellow Springs. Saturday night is the last opportunity for registering for the first camp.

According to A. J. Black, who will be in charge of the camp, the boy campers must come provided with two pairs of blankets, two sheets, two pairs of long stockings, two suits of underwear, 1 swimming suit, a heavy sweater, handkerchiefs, shirts and knickerbockers, several towels, two or three dark shirts, one light shirt, sleeping garments, rubber toilet shoes, heavy shoes for hiking, toilet articles, knapsack, messkit and canteen.

SAYS MEN DENY POWER OF GOD

"We are living in the last days when men are lovers of pleasures more than God, a day when men are ever learning and never able to come to the knowledge of the Truth," said Miss Edna M. Banning, evangelist in charge of the revival at the Nazarene Church, Thursday night. "This is a day when men have a form of Godliness, but deny the real power and manifestations of the power of God," said Miss Banning. "It is just as logical to talk about an honest liar as it is to talk about a sinning Christian."

"Christ did not come to save us in our sins, but from them, and a man that claims to be a child of God and yet says he sins every day in thought, word, and deed is a hypocrite. People might deceive their friends but not God. God knows and sees just what we are in His sight. The blood is still efficacious to save from all sin."

While pointing out that prices showed the greatest increase during May than in any month for more than two years, the department warned against disregarding caution because it "has been the excesses of the prosperity period that have been responsible for the depth of the depression that followed."

TWENTY EIGHT MEN ARE NOW ON STRIKE FROM LOCAL SHOPS

With twenty-eight employees on strike only two strike-breakers have been hired so far by the Pennsylvania Railroad at the Round House here, it is said.

In the meantime the striking workers are standing on the orders of their union leaders and are waiting action of the leaders without demonstrations.

Trains are continuing to be run on schedule and there has been no indication locally that a strike is in progress. Strikers say that there will probably be no trouble with engines for several days, as they can be used without overhauling and repairs for some time in case of necessity without being disabled.

Although only 15 local Round House employees responded to the strike call at ten o'clock last Saturday morning, they were joined by 13 more strikers Saturday night at nine o'clock. The 13 men who walked out at night were laborers, who waited until that time for orders from their union leaders before leaving their jobs. Besides the 28 local men, four others, who are employed in Dayton, but who work under General Foreman Charles McNamee of this city, are also on strike. Four local veteran employees, were not called out by the union, and are still on their jobs.

The 28 local men on strike include machinists, boiler makers and helpers, and all laborers, including employees who fill the lubricators, watch engines under steam and work in the ash pits or on the coal docks. Two boiler makers and two machinists are employed in Dayton.

"We are striking as much to protect the maintenance of way employees and to protect our workman's agreement as anything else," said one of the local strikers. "The wage cut does not mean so much to us as the retention of our workman's agreement, as that stands for protection in seniority rights and prevents promiscuous passing out of good jobs to friends of the foreman."

Local strikers say there will be no disturbance or demonstration in connection with their walk-out. "We do not believe in using violence in keeping 'scabs' off the jobs. If they want to take the jobs of striking men we won't use force to prevent them."

MAY EXTEND POWERS

Paris, July 7.—The league of nations disarmament commission today discussed the advisability of extending the Washington conference treaty governing the use of poison gas in warfare to all the powers belonging to the league. Action was postponed until the non-signatories to the poison gas treaty had been notified that all the powers represented at Washington had signed the treaty.

DESTROYED BY FIRE

BRINGING UP FATHER

LOSE CASE FINALLY IN SUPREME COURT; MUST PAY HIS FINE

Charles Wilson, Clark County farmer, will have to pay the fine of $50 and costs meted out to him last summer on a charge of driving a tractor over a city paved street, as a result of a supreme court decision handed down Thursday.

Wilson fought the decision and fine of police court through the common pleas court, court of appeals and supreme court, finally losing his legal battle when supreme court affirmed the judgment of the court of appeals and ordered a mandate issued to common pleas court in Springfield to carry the judgment into effect.

Wilson made a test case out of city ordinance, and held that since the state constitution provides that high way open to any vehicular traffic is also open for tractors, and that the city ordinance was invalid since it conflicted with the state law. The city held that since home rule applies under the state constitution, that the city ordinance was valid. All courts upheld the ordinance.

The Springfield city ordinance is the same one from which the new city ordinance passed by the Xenia city commission last Saturday was modeled.

A Stenographer's Romance

BY JANE THLEPS

AN HILARIOUS EVENING CHAPTER 11

It was early when the girls left the house. They would see the first show, then go to a restaurant near by and have ice cream.

"Might as well do the thing up brown," Cora said when Gladys objected. She had seen the delight in Nellie's eyes at her suggestion. It was a cheap little place, the ice cream only 15 cents a dish.

"I could just die eating ice cream some day when I am earning $20 a week I'm going to have all I want. All at one time too."

"Then you will die," Gladys said. "Never mind, can you think of a happier death? Nice, cool ice cream running down your throat till you fill up and die."

"Oh, Nellie! Was there ever another girl like you?"

"I'll ask Ma sometime! I ain't never heard I was twins."

It was a Charlie Chaplin film, and being in the mood, his fun seemed more ridiculous than ever. The girls laughed continuously, and when they left were in a very jolly frame of mind, ready for their ice cream party.

"Let's eat slow, girls, so it'll last longer!" Nellie said, an ecstatic expression on her face. But the dishes were small and soon finished.

"I'm not a bit sleepy," Gladys said as they left the restaurant. "I guess I've laughed too much, and been too excited over Nellie's luck, to say nothing of the wild west dance I had."

"Let's take a walk," Nellie proposed. "A nice long walk down Broadway and see all the electric signs. It's most as good as going to a show."

It was a lovely night and the others agreed. So arm in arm chatting happily the three paraded down Broadway as far as 14th Street, then back up to their rooming house.

"You get one kind of signs going down, and another coming back. They look different anyway," Nellie declared.

The theaters were just emptying forth their crowds as the girls passed and they stopped often to admire and comment on the beautiful women in evening dress with lovely cloaks thrown over their bare shoulders, to speak of the men in their "waiters suits" as Nellie called the dress clothes they wore.

"Someday I'm going to the theater dressed like that girl we saw, and I'm going with a man in waiters fix-ins. You see if I don't!" Nellie declared.

"You don't have any pipe dreams do you, dear?" asked with a little sigh. These women and girls they had seen lived in another world, a world of ease and comfort. They didn't work day after day just to keep body and soul together. The sight of them had stimulated Nellie, had passed over Cora, and had made Gladys bitter, almost spoiled her evening for her. She was glad when they left the theater district behind.

"Now to bed, both of you!" Cora said when at last they reached home.

"We've had a dandy evening, Cora, thank you ever so much," Nellie said as she kissed her goodnight. "When grandpa sees how contented I am I expect he'll give me tickets to take you and Gladys to the opera. I'll ask him anyway."

"Oh, Nellie!" Cora gasped. "Operas and such things aren't for poor girls like us, Nellie! Gladys still felt depressed, and it showed in her voice."

"They are if we can get them! And watch little Nellie when she gets to earning money. We're going to places we can, 'all work and no play' they said at Miss Carter's, 'makes Jack a dull boy.' Well, it ain't going to make Cora, and Gladys and little Nellie dull girls if I can help it. We have as much right to a little fun as anybody."

"Having the right and having the fun are two different things," Gladys returned.

"Will you two stop talking," Cora called out, "I'm dying to go to sleep and I can't with all that chattering."

"Forgive us, Cora," Nellie was sorry at once, and as usual did not hesitate to say so. She almost worshipped Cora, and that she should annoy her even thoughtlessly hurt.

"Of course, dear, goodnight!"

Tomorrow—Nellie Takes Her New Position.

TWENTY EIGHT MEN ARE NOW ON STRIKE FROM LOCAL SHOPS

With twenty-eight employees on strike only two strike-breakers have been hired so far by the Pennsylvania Railroad at the Round house here, it is said.

In the meantime the striking workers are standing on the orders of their union leaders and are waiting action of the leaders without demonstrations.

Trains are continuing to be run on schedule and there has been no indication locally that a strike is in progress. Strikers say that there will probably be no trouble with engines for several days, as they can be used without overhauling and repairs for some time in case of necessity without being disabled.

Although only 15 local Round House employees responded to the strike call at ten o'clock last Saturday morning, they were joined by 13 more strikers Saturday night at nine o'clock. The 13 men who walked out at night were laborers, who waited until that time for orders from their union leaders before leaving their jobs. Besides the 28 local men, four others, who are employed in Dayton, but who work under General Foreman Charles McNamee of this city, are also on strike. Four local veteran employees, are still on their jobs.

The 28 local men on strike include machinists, boiler makers, and helpers, and all laborers, including engine men who fill the lubricators, watch engines under steam and work in the ash pits or on the coal docks. Two boiler makers and two machinists are employed in Dayton.

"We are striking as much to protect the maintenance of way men employees and to protect our workman's agreement as anything else," said one of the local strikers. "The wage cut does not mean so much to us as the retention of our workman's agreement, as that stands for protection in seniority rights and prevents promiscuous passing out of good jobs to friends of the foreman."

Local strikers say there will be no disturbance or demonstration in connection with their walk-out. "We do not believe in using violence in keeping 'scabs' off the jobs. If they want to take the jobs of striking men we won't use force to prevent them."

MAY EXTEND POWERS

Paris, July 7.—The league of nations disarmament commission today discussed the advisability of extending the Washington conference treaty governing the use of poison gas in warfare to all the powers belonging to the league. Action was postponed until the non signatories to the poison gas treaty had been notified that all the powers represented at Washington had signed the treaty.

DESTROYED BY FIRE

Johnstown, Pa., July 7.—An entire block in the center of Nanty-Glo, a mining town near here, was destroyed by fire, causing damage amounting to $125,000. Several stores, an ice cream factory and a hotel were among the buildings laid in ruins.

BRINGING UP FATHER

LOSE CASE FINALLY IN SUPREME COURT; MUST PAY HIS FINE

farmer, will have to pay the fine of $50 and costs meted out to him last summer on a charge of driving a tractor over a city paved street, as a result of a supreme court decision handed down Thursday.

Wilson fought the decision and fine of police court through the common pleas court, court of appeals and supreme court, finally losing his legal battle when supreme court affirmed the judgment of the court of appeals and ordered a mandate issued to common pleas court in Springfield to carry the judgment into effect.

Wilson made a test case out of city ordinance, and held that since the state constitution provides that highway open to any vehicular traffic is also open for tractors, and that the city ordinance was invalid since it conflicted with the state law. The city held that since home rule applies under the state constitution, that the city ordinance was valid. All courts upheld the ordinance.

The Springfield city ordinance is the same one from which the Xenia city commission last Saturday was modeled.

A Stenographer's Romance

BY JANE THLEPS

AN HILARIOUS EVENING CHAPTER 11

It was early when the girls left the house. They would see the first show, then go to a restaurant near by and have ice cream.

"Might as well do the thing up brown," Cora said when Gladys objected. She had seen the delight in Nellie's eyes at her suggestion. It was a cheap little place, the ice cream only 15 cents a dish.

"I could just die eating ice cream some day when I am earning $20 a week I'm going to have all I want. All at one time too."

"Then you will die," Gladys said. "Never mind, can you think of a happier death? Nice, cool ice cream running down your throat till you fill up and die."

"Oh, Nellie! Was there ever another girl like you?"

"I'll ask Ma sometime! I ain't never heard I was twins."

It was a Charlie Chaplin film, and being in the mood, his fun seemed more ridiculous than ever. The girls laughed continuously, and when they left were in a very jolly frame of mind, ready for their ice cream party.

"Let's eat slow, girls, so it'll last longer!" Nellie said, an ecstatic expression on her face. But the dishes were small and soon finished.

"I'm not a bit sleepy," Gladys said as they left the restaurant. "I guess I've laughed too much, and been too excited over Nellie's luck, to say anything of the wild west dance I had."

"Let's take a walk," Nellie proposed. "A nice long walk down Broadway and see all the electric signs. It's most as good as going to a show."

It was a lovely night and the others agreed. So arm in arm chatting happily the three paraded down Broadway as far as 14th Street, then back up to their rooming house.

"You get one kind of signs going down, and another coming back. They look different anyway," Nellie declared.

The theaters were just emptying forth their crowds as the girls passed and they stopped often to admire and comment on the beautiful women in evening dress with lovely cloaks thrown over their bare shoulders, to speak of the men in their "waiters suits" as Nellie called the dress clothes they wore.

"Someday I'm going to the theater dressed like that girl we saw, and I'm going with a man in waiters fixings. You see if I don't!" Nellie declared.

"You don't have any pipe dreams do you, dear?" asked with a little sigh. These women and girls they had seen lived in another world, a world of ease and comfort. They didn't work day after day just to keep body and soul together. The sight of them had stimulated Nellie, had passed over Cora, and had made Gladys bitter, almost spoiled her evening for her. She was glad when they left the theater district behind.

"Now to bed, both of you!" Cora said when at last they reached home.

"We've had a dandy evening, Cora, thank you ever so much," Nellie said as she kissed her goodnight. "When grandpa sees how competent I am I expect he'll give me tickets to take you and Gladys to the opera. I'll ask him anyway."

"Oh, Nellie!" Cora gasped. "Operas and such things aren't for poor girls like us, Nellie," Gladys still felt depressed, and it showed in her voice.

"They are if we can get them! And watch little Nellie when she gets to earning money. We're going to places we can't go to now, and we'll play the same old boy. Well, it ain't going to make Cora, and Gladys and little Nellie dull girls if I can help it. We have as much right to a little fun as anybody."

"Having the right and having the fun are two different things," Gladys returned.

"Will you two stop talking," Cora called out, "I'm dying to go to sleep, and I can't with all that chattering." "Forgive us, Cora," Nellie was sorry at once, and as usual did not hesitate to say so. She almost worshipped Cora, and that she should now her even thoughtlessly hurt.

"Of course, dear, goodnight!"

Tomorrow—Nellie Takes Her New Position.
